SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 270

WHEREAS, Illinois is a national leader in agricultural productivity, with more than 75% of the State's land used for farming, and soil health is critical to the sustainability and resilience of our agricultural systems; and

WHEREAS, Healthy soil is essential for growing food, improving water quality, enhancing biodiversity, storing carbon, and mitigating the effects of climate change; and

WHEREAS, Illinois family farmers have been stewards of the land for generations, using innovative practices and conservation techniques to preserve soil health for future generations; and

WHEREAS, Promoting soil health aligns with the goals of environmental stewardship, economic vitality, and community well-being across rural and urban areas of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Raising awareness about the importance of soil health will encourage greater adoption of conservation practices and support the work of farmers, soil scientists, and conservation organizations throughout the State; and

WHEREAS, Recognizing the contributions of Illinois family farmers and supporting soil health education will help ensure the long-term productivity and sustainability of Illinois agriculture; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE SENATE OF THE ONE HUNDRED FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we declare the first full week of March 2026 as Soil Health Week in the State of Illinois to celebrate and raise awareness of the importance of soil health and to honor the essential role of Illinois family farmers in preserving our land and feeding our communities; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we encourage schools, agricultural organizations, conservation groups, and communities to observe Soil Health Week through educational activities, outreach, and the promotion of soil stewardship practices; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a suitable copy of this resolution be delivered to the Illinois Department of Agriculture and to soil and water conservation districts across the State in recognition of their contributions to this vital cause.

[May 6, 2025]

Senator Belt offered the following Senate Resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Assignments:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 273

WHEREAS, Approximately 1 in 7 American adults have chronic kidney disease, and the third leading cause of chronic kidney disease is glomerulonephritis, often caused by rare kidney diseases such as focal segmental glomerulosclerosis (FSGS); and

WHEREAS, FSGS is a condition referring to scarring in the kidneys, often leading to a difficult journey that can, in many cases, result in kidney failure, requiring dialysis, transplants, cycles of remissions and relapse, and even recurrence; and

WHEREAS, Of patients with FSGS, 50% of them require dialysis or a kidney transplant within 5 to 10 years of diagnosis; and

WHEREAS, FSGS is a severe disease because it often progresses rapidly to kidney failure, and even for patients who receive a kidney transplant, it can recur in their transplanted kidney up to 50% of the time; and

WHEREAS, While FSGS can be diagnosed at any age, it is most commonly diagnosed in adults rather than in children and most prevalent in adults over 45 years of age; and

WHEREAS, FSGS is a burden on our healthcare system, with a 2019 study estimating that the disease costs Medicaid, Medicare, and private health insurance approximately $2 billion annually in direct medical costs, not including indirect and quality of life costs; and

WHEREAS, According to data from the National Registry of Rare Kidney Diseases (RaDaR), rare kidney diseases like FSGS comprise only 5% to 10% of chronic kidney disease patients but account for approximately 30% of kidney failure; and

WHEREAS, Many patients face delays in being diagnosed with FSGS, due both to the difficulty of the rare disease diagnostic odyssey, averaging 5 to 7 years, and challenges in accessing nephrology care that specialize in rare kidney diseases due to the current shortage in the United States; and

WHEREAS, FSGS disproportionately impacts minority populations, including African Americans, often occurring at a rate 4 to 5 times higher than white Americans; and

WHEREAS, Due to certain variants of the APOL1 gene that significantly increase the risk of developing FSGS and other kidney diseases and the fact that these high-risk variants are found almost exclusively in individuals of African ancestry, the condition contributes to the disproportionate burden of kidney disease in Black communities; and

WHEREAS, FSGS is a significant burden not only to the health and lives of patients and their families but also because the condition incurs great challenges for the healthcare system and healthcare financing in Illinois; and

WHEREAS, There is new hope for patients with FSGS, as clinical trials are underway for products that may delay progression of the condition and the onset of kidney disease, including the potential for FDA-approved therapies in the near future, and significant progress is being made by scientists, regulators, patient groups, and the healthcare industry to validate proteinuria as an indicator of improvement in patients; and

[May 6, 2025]

WHEREAS, Patients, families, advocacy organizations like NephCure, healthcare providers, the healthcare industry, and researchers are working tirelessly to raise awareness, promote early detection, and develop new innovative therapies for FSGS; and

WHEREAS, FSGS Awareness Day is designated to raise awareness of FSGS, to provide support and inspiration to patients and families struggling with the disease, and to promote the efforts needed for better diagnosis and access to future treatments that can transform the course of the condition; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE SENATE OF THE ONE HUNDRED FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we declare June 10, 2025 as FSGS Awareness Day in Illinois to bring attention to the focal segmental glomerulosclerosis (FSGS) disease.

Senator Villa offered the following Senate Resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Assignments:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 274

WHEREAS, A child's parents are the foremost authority in the needs of the child; and

WHEREAS, Every day, mothers and grandmothers stand up for the rights of their children and advocate for their needs; and

WHEREAS, Many of these parents and grandparents visit the Illinois State Capitol in Springfield to advocate on behalf of legislation that supports their children's rights; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE SENATE OF THE ONE HUNDRED FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we declare May 7, 2025 as Moms on a Mission Day in the State of Illinois to honor the mothers, grandmothers, fathers, and families who stand up for children's rights; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we welcome the mothers, grandmothers, fathers, and families at the Illinois State Capitol on May 7, 2025, particularly those who are here for the first time, to join in the efforts to stand up for children's rights.

Senator Johnson offered the following Senate Joint Resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Assignments:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 36

WHEREAS, Scarring alopecia, also known as cicatricial alopecia, refers to a group of rare disorders that destroys hair follicles, replaces them with scar tissue, and causes permanent hair loss; and

WHEREAS, Scarring alopecia can affect individuals of all ages, genders, and ethnic backgrounds, and it can have profound physical, emotional, and psychological impacts on those affected; and

WHEREAS, Early diagnosis and appropriate medical intervention are critical to slowing the progression of scarring alopecia and preserving existing hair and scalp health; and

WHEREAS, Public awareness about scarring alopecia remains low, often resulting in delayed diagnoses, limited access to specialized care, and a lack of understanding about the experiences of those living with the condition; and

WHEREAS, Organizations, healthcare providers, researchers, and patient advocates are working diligently to promote awareness, advance research, support affected individuals, and improve treatments and outcomes for those living with scarring alopecia; and

WHEREAS, Designating September as Scarring Alopecia Awareness Month will help educate the public, support affected individuals, and encourage further research into effective treatments and a potential cure; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE SENATE OF THE ONE HUNDRED FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING HEREIN, that we declare September 2025 as Scarring Alopecia Awareness Month in the State of Illinois to help bring attention to and educate the public on scarring alopecia.
