women that work in my district office that really get the work done for the people of the 2nd district. My Chief of Staff, Madeline Cruz, and my Outreach Director, Nilda Menendez, who truly are godsend folks to me. Like they -- they make me look good. That's very difficult, but they do an incredible job at it. But truly, they are members of our community that give back to it working every single day. And this is the first, I believe, the first time that Nilda has been to Springfield and to our Capitol. So, if we can just give her a warm Senate welcome. Thank you.

SENATOR AQUINO:

Thank you, Mr. President. Today I present to you Senate Resolution 938, which seeks to establish today, May 8th, as Moms on a Mission Day in Illinois. Moms on a Mission Day is an annual advocacy day dedicated to building a strong voice for working people by uniting parents and legislators around issues important to Illinois families. By centering parent leadership and public policy Mom on a Mission Day lifts up parent led efforts to communities across Chicago and Illinois, including Belmont Cragin, Hermosa, and Humboldt Park in my district, as well as throughout the State. With us today in the Hall of Flags, our parent and family leaders here for Moms on a Mission Day. And yes, dads too. I'm told many of them are here for the first time. I want to take a moment and give them a warm welcome to Springfield by declaring May 8th, 2024, as Moms on a Mission Day, we can send a powerful message to parents, grandparents, caregivers, and families that

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR CUNNINGHAM)

Senator Hunter, for an announcement.

SENATOR HUNTER:

Thank you, Mr. President. Yesterday was World Asthma Day, an initiative organized by the Global Initiative for asthma in collaboration with the World Health Organization. Asthma affects 26.8 million people in the United States, including 380,000 adults and 160,000 children in Illinois. Asthma is a leading cause of missed work and school days, and disparities persist in our State, according to the Illinois Department of Public Health the rates of asthma, emergency room visits among black people and Latinos are eight times and nearly two times the rate of whites, respectively. Sadly, 137 people died of asthma in 2018. These deaths are largely preventable. That's why I am proud to champion Senate Bill 3203, which passed this Chamber with overwhelming bipartisan support and recently passed the House Insurance Committee. Senate Bill 3208 {sic} (3203) will help make prescription inhalers more affordable for many patients, like those living with asthma, who require prescription inhalers to control their disease and live a healthier life. As a person with asthma, I know firsthand what it feels like to struggle to breathe. No one should be unable to access lifesaving drugs that help them breathe due to cost. The American Lung Association is championing this legislation with me, and you'll hear more about this support of this measure and additional policies, priorities to help protect lung health in Illinois during the Lung Association's Advocacy Day today. I look forward to our continued work together to pass this legislation to assure affordable and adequate health care access to all. Thank you very much, Mr. President.

To the resolution. Thank you, Mr. President. We would like to declare in the State of Illinois, May 8th, 2024, as the day of the rebozo. The rebozo is a traditional Mexican garment that is a hybrid of a scarf and a shawl. It's a respected site within the Latino community, and it's an icon of the indigenous culture in Mexico, while representing the strength, resilience and loving nature of Mexican women. And the rebozo is not only a symbol of national identity and religiosity, it represents Mexico on an international level as well. It's a symbol of love, transmitted from grandmother to mother to daughter as a physical embodiment of safety, courage and love for the family and the country. We have with us today a group from my district, to receive this resolution.
